Officer while on patrol noticed multiple Boston Fire Department (BFD) vehicles outside of the building. BFD reported that there was a small cardboard fire in the basement that was extinguished upon their arrival. The fire was reportedly caused by welding debris traveling down a shaft that ultimately landed on the cardboard and began to smolder.

Officer dispatched to a report of a fire alarm. Officer arrived and reported alarm caused by steam from a burst hot water pipe. Officer stated that the only observed damage was to ceiling tiles.
